WHAT PERSONAL INFORMATION DO WE COLLECT?

We collect only that personal information that we need for the purposes of providing services to our clients, including to:

- deliver requested programs and services

We normally collect client personal information directly from our clients. We inform our clients, before, or at the time of collecting personal information, of the purposes for which we are collecting the information. The only time we don't provide this notification is when a client volunteers information for an obvious purpose (for example, producing a credit card donation when the information will be used only to process the payment).

We collect personal information over the phone, through the mail, in person, on paper and online. Hard copies are kept in locked offices and/or locked filing cabinets. Digital information is protected securely by Ve'ahavta in conjunction with our IT providers.

We ask for consent to collect, use or disclose client personal information, except in specific circumstances where collection, use or disclosure without consent is authorized or required by law. We may assume your consent in cases where you volunteer information for an obvious purpose. If we ask for consent in writing, this information will be filed in a secure location.

We assume your consent to continue to use and, where applicable, disclose personal information that we have already collected, for the purpose for which the information was collected.

A client may withdraw consent to the use and disclosure of personal information at any time, unless the personal information is necessary for us to fulfil our legal obligations.
